

To whom it may concern,
I strongly believe that XM radio and Sirrius should be able to continue to offer local programming content (ie: traffic and weather content).

It is clear to me that if I want to pay for enhanced radio content variety and reduced commercial content, I should be able to.

If the local broadcasters don't like it, they should offer content that is compelling so that I would switch back to their bands.

Thanks for your consideration.

Daniel R. Smith